PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

On behalf of our entire organization, welcome to Visible Learning 2.0. We are excited to continue this important work together in Year 2 as educators, leaders, and researchers from across South Carolina gather to deepen our practice and strengthen our impact on student learning.

We are honored to learn alongside John Hattie and Heath Peine, whose research continues to guide and challenge our thinking about what makes the greatest difference for students. Just as importantly, we are excited to hear from educators and leaders across our state who are bringing Visible Learning to life by sharing their successes, lessons learned, and practical approaches to implementation.

Visible Learning 2.0 is about moving from understanding to action. It is about learning with and from one another, strengthening clarity, and intentionally designing learning experiences so students know where they are going, how they are doing, and what comes next. As we engage in meaningful conversations and collaborative learning throughout the conference, we continue building momentum toward a future where our collective efforts lead to greater equity, achievement, and student ownership of learning.

Thank you for being part of this Year 2 journey. Together, we are learning, leading, and making learning visible for every student. Enjoy the conference!

Keynote Presenters

John Hattie

John Hattie, Ph.D., is an award-winning education researcher and best-selling author with nearly 30 years of experience examining what works best in student learning and achievement. His research, better known as Visible Learning, is a culmination of nearly 30 years synthesizing more than 1,700 meta-analyses comprising more than 100,000 studies involving over 300 million students around the world. He has presented and keynoted in over 350 international conferences and has received numerous recognitions for his contributions to education. His notable publications include Visible Learning, Visible Learning for Teachers, Visible Learning and the Science of How We Learn, Visible Learning for Mathematics, Grades K-12, and, most recently, 10 Mindframes for Visible Learning.

Heath Peine

Heath Peine is the Director of Professional Learning, Learning Services at Corwin, where he leads efforts to deliver high-impact professional learning that empowers educators and improves outcomes for students. With experience spanning teaching, instructional coaching, and district leadership, Heath brings a practitioner's perspective to his work. He has led system-wide improvements through initiatives such as PLC+, Visible Learning, Teacher Clarity, and MTSS. Now, he partners with school and district leaders nationwide, helping them drive meaningful change through evidence-based practices.

Teaching Students to Drive Their Learning

John Hattie & Heath Peine

Teachers & Instructional Coaches

In this session, teachers and instructional coaches will explore how to shift students from participation to ownership of learning. Drawing on Visible Learning and the book Teaching Students to Drive Their Learning, John Hattie and Heath Peine highlight practical moves educators can use to empower students to drive their own learning.

Data-Driven Leadership: Aligning PLCs, Instructional Walks, and Professional Development

Susan Aplin & Erin Doty

Classroom Mosaic/
Crossroads Intermediate
Lexington Richland 5

This session will showcase how one school's leadership team revolutionized their approach to instructional leadership through systematic implementation of PLCs, instructional walks, and the use of Classroom Mosaic. We will explore essential elements of successful leadership, including scheduling strategies, meeting protocols, and data analysis techniques that support both teacher and student growth. We'll share practical examples to help leaders avoid possible pitfalls while building a culture of continuous improvement through strategic monitoring and adjustment. See video preview

Level Up: Inspire Greatness through Teacher Clarity

Francina Gerald, Kristen Logan, Amy Swick

Lexington District One/Pelion
Elementary

In this panel session, attendees will join members of the instructional leadership team from Pelion Elementary School as we share the beginnings of our Visible Learning and Teacher Clarity journey. Because Teacher Clarity is identified as one of Visible Learning's signature practices, we chose this framework as a powerful entry point to accelerate learning, create consistency across classrooms, and strengthen the partnership between teachers and students. Together, we'll explore why we selected this focus, what we've done so far, and the early signs of impact we've already seen in classrooms. See video preview

Making the Invisible Visible: Using Teacher Working Conditions Data to Strengthen Leadership and Learning

P. Ann Byrd & Quantina Haggwood

SC Teacher

This session explores how the SC Teacher Working Conditions Survey (SCTWCS), administered biennially by SC TEACHER, provides leaders with actionable insights into those environments. Participants will examine how survey constructs of teacher working conditions—including administrative support, professional development support, student engagement, and coworker support—connect directly to Hattie's findings and make visible the conditions that enable teacher and student success. When Less Is More: How Leaders Can Lighten the Load to Raise the Bar

Stephanie DiStasio
 TSG Advisors - Education

← Return to all sessions

Too many initiatives — or too little clarity? When leaders avoid making hard choices, schools end up juggling practices that exhaust staff without improving learning. In this session, we'll explore how district and school leaders can stop, start, and streamline to create the focus teachers and students need. Anchored in John Hattie's Visible Learning research, this conversation will challenge assumptions and share practical ways to cut clutter, raise expectations, and make learning truly visible. "Staff Infection": How Empowered Teachers Ignite Schoolwide Growth

Alyssa Likens, Ashley Moreira, Juliane Wade & Stacey Merritt
 Greenville Co Schools/Sterling School

← Return to all sessions

This session explores how teacher leadership can honor expertise, enable collaboration, and elevate learning by creating teacher-led, content-specific professional learning experiences grounded in Visible Learning. Participants will see how shifting from traditional top-down professional development to an innovative professional learning structure where educators learn from and with each other builds collective efficacy, strengthens instructional practice, and fosters a culture where both teachers and students take ownership of learning. Practical strategies and real-world examples will help participants replicate these approaches to make learning visible, measurable, and impactful schoolwide. See video preview

How do school and district leaders move beyond words on a page to ensure their strategic plan produces visible results for students? This interactive workshop will demonstrate how one school aligned its strategic plan with the principles of Visible Learning 2.0—focusing on teacher clarity, evidence of learning, and progress monitoring. Participants will engage in guided reflection, hands-on practice with an alignment template, and collaborative discussions that connect leadership actions to systemic change. By the end of the session, administrators, instructional coaches, and district leaders will leave with practical tools and a customized action step to strengthen implementation in their own contexts.

Midway Elementary and
 Lexington District One

← Return to all sessions

Discover how Midway Elementary School (MES), in collaboration with Lexington District One, is implementing Visible Learning signature practices to strengthen teacher clarity and schoolwide climate throughout the school. This presentation will share how MES makes learning visible for students through clear learning intentions and success criteria, fostering a climate where errors are seen as learning opportunities. Using The Illustrated Guide to Visible Learning and a boxing protocol, we'll demonstrate a professional learning plan designed to empower staff to embed these practices. Breakout discussions and whole-group Q&A offers a chance to explore how these strategies can create a culture of visible learning in any school. See video preview

Collaborative conversations are most impactful when teams share a common focus. In this session, participants will explore how teacher clarity—through clear learning intentions, success criteria, and progressions—can serve as a powerful guide for Professional Learning Community (PLC) discussions. Together, we'll examine practical strategies for using clarity to drive instructional dialogue, align practices, and ensure that conversations remain centered on student learning. Participants will leave with tools and action steps to anchor their PLC work in teacher clarity, making collaboration more purposeful, consistent, and effective.

Building Bridges for Student Success: Strengthening Tiered Partnerships
Josh Patterson, Anna Doyle, Gayle Howard & Liz Auckland
 Sterling School
 Greenville County Schools

How can schools move beyond “programs” to create a culture of collaboration across Tiers 1–2–3? In this session, Sterling School will share intentional moves that ensured Tier 2 and Tier 3 had a true seat at the table—embedding interventionists in PLCs, co-facilitating data discussions, and aligning professional learning across all tiers. These structures, along with instructional rounds and teacher learning labs, have strengthened vertical alignment, increased instructional ownership, and maximized growth for all students.

LIGHT the WAY

Instructional Leadership Award

Yanilka "Nicky" Carmen Andrews

July 1, 1974 – May 22, 2025

A visionary leader, compassionate mentor, and devoted advocate for education, Nicky dedicated her life to fostering growth, empowerment, and transformation within her community. With an unwavering commitment to excellence, Nicky touched countless lives through her work as an educator and administrator, leaving an indelible mark on students, colleagues, and families alike.

It is our great privilege to recognize instructional leaders across our state with this award in her honor. This award is open to any instructional leader (teacher, instructional coach, assistant principal, principal, district office staff) whose vision and leadership have helped transform their schools and produced outstanding results for all students to develop academically, emotionally, physically, socially, and culturally.

Please see full description and criteria to apply for SCATLL's Light the Way Instructional Leadership Award:
